

Prisoners for Peace List 2017

A list of some of those currently in prison for their work for peace. We include those whose addresses we can obtain, and who are happy to have their names and stories made public. In some cases, nicknames are used and 'care of' (c/o) addresses given, where that person is happy to be contacted, but does not want their contact details spread publicly.

Eritrea

Eritrea continues to imprison conscientious objectors. There is no available recent information on the situation of the conscientious objectors listed below, who have not been charged. The below are all Jehovah's Witness, imprisoned for conscientious objection to military service.

Eritrea's military service is indefinite, for men and women, and starts in the final two years of high school, which is in a military camp.

'Refuse to occupy' – a day of action in support of imprisoned COs in Israel, calling on the international community not to support the Israeli military occupation through the arms trade, as COs refuse to support it with their labour. Prisoners for Peace Day, 2016.

Action ideas

- Set aside time on 1st December to write to those imprisoned for their peace work, and get your friends, peace group, student, faith or community group to organise a card-writing session;
- Get postcards made up, leaving space for individual messages of support, and set up a street stall around Prisoners for Peace day.

Israel

In November and December some draft refusers in Israel are likely to be going to prison. Their prison sentences will be short—10, 20 or 30 days long—so it is not worth us adding them to this list, since by the time you receive it they may be out of jail.

Please check wri-irg.org/inprison for up-to-date info on how to write to COs in prison in Israel.

Korea, South

All COs in Korea face 18 months imprisonment, with no opportunity for substitute service. This is a list of political COs currently to be in prison. There are also around 400 Jehovah's Witness COs imprisoned. South Korea imprisons more COs than the rest of the world combined.

Sending cards and letters

- Send your card in an envelope;
- Include a return name and address on the envelope;
- Be chatty and creative: send photos from your life or drawings;
- Let the prisoners know what you are doing to stop war and war preparations;
- Don't write anything that might get the prisoner into trouble;
- Think about the sort of thing you'd like to receive if you were in prison;
- Try not to begin your correspondence with "You are so brave, I could never do what you have done";
- Remember that the prisoner may not be able to reply.
